

Chih Wei Chen is a member of magnet group at National Synchrotron Radiation Research Center. Mainly responsible for improving the insertion devices measurement system and establishing vibrating wire and pulsed wire measurement system