

Dr. Jerzy Nogiec is a computer scientist with extensive experience in research and engineering. He is an accomplished technical manager with a background in R&D and a leader and principal architect of software projects. Jerzy is a group leader at Fermilab where he works on test and measurement systems and automation projects.